

Getting information at the Airport

Conversation A

S1. What time is the next train to the city scheduled to depart?

S2. The upcoming one is Train 12 departing at eleven fifty-five.

S1. And what follows that?

S2. Flight 21 at one oh-five.

Conversation B

S1. How frequently do flights to Paris operate?

S2. We offer flights to Paris every hour.

S1. Are they direct flights?

S2. Yes, they are nonstop, straight to Paris.

Conversation C

S1. Can I reserve a seat on flight 10 to Tokyo?

S2. I'm sorry, but all seats are booked.

S1. What about the following flight tomorrow at two o'clock?

S2. Yes, I can arrange a reservation for you on that one.

Conversation D

S1. I'd like to check-in for the flight to New York.

S2. Great. Do you have your ticket and passport ready?

S1. Yes, here's my ticket, and I'll retrieve my passport.

S2. Could you please place your luggage on the scales?

S2. No worries. They'll likely announce it about ten minutes before arrival.

Conversation E

S1. How long does the flight from New York to Washington usually take?

S2. Ideally, it's an hour, but sometimes it takes longer.

S1. How frequently are there flights from New York to Washington?

S2. There's one every hour.